Information technology is the engine that drives business. Shut down the engine and you shut down the business. Today's business-critical technology systems demand power and cooling support that is flexible, reliable and efficient - and that's what Liebert technology delivers.

Learn from tour host, Jim Shernisky, how this leading global manufacturer handles operations management, including production, inventory, supply chain, materials management, purchasing, and logistics.

As part of Emerson Network Power, Liebert delivers power, cooling and monitoring technologies that protect and support business-critical systems. Liebert customers include every company in the FORTUNE 500 and thousands of other large, mid-sized and small enterprises that depend on Liebert technology to:

- Eliminate downtime
- Enable fast, efficient response to changes in technology and business strategies
- Protect and extend their investment in information technology systems
- Reduce capital and operating cost

February 17th – Dr. Douglas

From the Chairman...

I would like to take this opportunity to let everyone know in advance that Dr. Stephen Douglas will be going us again, in February for the PDM. Please make sure and make your calendars in advance I would hate for anyone to miss this dynamics speaker;

Dr. Stephen Douglas earned a bachelor degree, two master's degrees and a doctorate from the Ohio State University. He served as an infantry officer in the United States Army in Vietnam. Dr. Douglas has been a teacher at the high school and college level. Since 1973, he has served as a mental health consultant and practitioner. He is married to Dr. Ellen Kay Douglas, also a psychologist, and they have two sons. Dr. Douglas is a special consultant to several law enforcement agencies throughout Ohio and he has an active psychological practice in Columbus. Additionally, he speaks throughout the country to over 15 groups each year.

From BOMs

The Buckeye Operations Management Society (BOMS) is off to a great start at OSU, with over 35 students joining during the past few weeks!

So far we have had APICS Columbus BoD member Burl Scott as a guest speaker to discuss APICS, CPIM and CSCP certification, and the value of APICS membership for students. We also had several members of Limitedbrands give a presentation to BOMS members on re-writing and presenting your self at a career fair as preparation for the internship and job search our students are currently undertaking. BOMS is putting together a resume book for students in operations management/logistics seeking internship and career positions. If you would like to receive a copy of the resume book, please contact Ms. Sunjata Dantiki at dantiki.1@osu.edu or you may visit our website at <http://groups.cob.ohio-state.edu/boms/> where the resumes should be posted, by the end of October.

Our next BOMS meeting will be Nov. 6th with a panel of operations management professionals to discuss "Your OM/SCM Career". On Nov. 20th we will have Colonel Klinker present "Operations Management in the military". Both meetings will begin at 7:00pm with pizza and mingling in Schoenbaum Hall 209, with the presentations at 7:30pm in SH 200.

If you have any questions about BOMS or would like to become involved, please contact the president Ryan Barker at barker.223@osu.edu or the faculty advisor Dr. Andrea Prud'homme at prudhomme.3@osu.edu.
